THE TRAINING

Biomechanics make the difference between a correct case and an excellent one.

Advanced training in aligner biomechanics

In Milan we come together to go deeper into the biomechanics of invisible orthodontics, focusing on what is truly challenging in everyday clinical practice: complex cases with aligners.

You will learn to plan with solid biomechanical criteria, to optimise difficult movements and to take control in the situations where aligners seem to have their limits.

If you want to stop adapting to the software and start making the software adapt to your diagnosis, this training is for you.
