TADs are not something new to you. You will have read many articles, seen photos and videos on how they are placed... but you may be missing the most important part: putting all this knowledge into practice.

Since we want you to dare to put screws in your patients after this event, we have prepared this workshop so that you will have the perfect complement to the rest of the lectures. Throughout a whole morning we will teach you:

- Material and clinical equipment
Micro-screw selection
- Most frequent anatomical areas
- Placement techniques

Do you want to get down to work and learn how to place micro-screws in this practice on models?

Then this course is for you. Sign up and improve the effectiveness of your treatments with aligners.

Hurry up, places are limited!
